What happens if my bill is lower than my monthly trade-in credit?

You won’t lose any of your trade-in credits. If your monthly credit is more than your bill, such as when other promotions or credits apply, the unused amount will carry over to your next bill until your full trade-in value has been applied.